

GONZALO PARADA

Junior Full Stack Developer

I am a second-year student pursuing a degree in Computer systems engineering at Universidad Abierta Interamericana, and I am currently working as a Functional Analyst at Prune. I consider myself a disciplined, analytical, and proactive individual. I have experience in handling various technologies, such as HTML, CSS, JavaScript, React, Vue, C# .NET, Java, and SQL.

EXPERIENCE

Functional Analyst at Prune

December 2022 - Present

- I managed the ERP (PRESEA), ensuring that the company's processes and data were up-to-date and accurate.
- I created and executed SQL queries to extract valuable information from the system, enabling timely decision-making for users.
- Administered user management (ABM) of the system, effectively controlling data access and maintaining information security.
- Analyzed, addressed, and resolved user queries and requirements, providing excellent customer service and ensuring that system expectations and needs were met.
- Documentation.

Science Communicator at TECNÓPOLIS

October 2021 - March 2022

- "Scientific outreach about the samples presented at the booth, providing visitors with a better understanding of the exhibited specimens.
- Effectively responding to inquiries generated by users, which allowed me to identify their needs and doubts and offer appropriate solutions and answers.
